Herrin Coal Elevation
WILLIAMSON County

The Herrin Coal Elevation Map presents detailed data on the elevation of the Herrin Coal deposit within Williamson County, Illinois. This map uses a color-coding system to indicate the depth of the coal bed at various locations. The map is based on survey data and provides valuable information for mining and geological studies.

Disclaimer: The data presented on this map is subject to errors and uncertainties. It is intended for general reference and should not be used for specific engineering or mining applications without further verification.