Springfield Coal Sulfur
STARK County

Map Explanation

The maps and digital products described and shown herein contain a variety of data that is measured, estimated, computer calculated, or otherwise determined. The Illinois State Geological Survey assumes no warranty of accuracy and completeness of the Survey's data, and assumes no responsibility for the use of such data. To the extent possible, the Illinois State Geological Survey is the data provider; however, in many cases, other parties have provided data that is used in the map products. Therefore, the Illinois State Geological Survey makes no warranty of accuracy or completeness for the products shown herein. The Survey's products are based on the best information available, and are intended for general information purposes only.

Disclaimer

The maps and digital products described and shown herein may not be accurate where subject to state or federal patent or copyright laws. The Illinois State Geological Survey assumes no responsibility for any unauthorized copies or uses. The Survey is not liable for any injuries or damages of any nature incurred due to the use of any of the Survey's data or products. The Survey's data and products are for general informational purposes only.

Greater than 2.50 (lb S per MM Btu)
0.84 to 1.24 (lb S per MM Btu)

Coal Sulfur