Springfield Coal Thickness
GRUNDY County

Map Explanation

The Springfield Coal map shows the extent and thickness of coal deposits in Grundy County, Illinois. The map is a useful tool for understanding the coal resources in the area and is valuable for planning and development projects. The map is based on data collected from various sources, including geological surveys and recent studies. Please note that the map is not exhaustive and may not show all coal deposits. The map is intended for informational purposes only and should not be used for legal or engineering purposes. The map is subject to change as new data becomes available. For the most up-to-date information, please consult the Illinois State Geological Survey. The map is provided free of charge and is not copyrighted. The Illinois State Geological Survey reserves the right to update or modify the map at any time.